PARIS, June 3.—(By Atlantic Cable.) All the sporting world of Paris went to Chantilly today to witness the race for the Prix du Jockey Club (French Derby) for three-year-olds. The money value was $138,000 or $27,770 and the distance was a mile and a half. The race was won by Gospodara, a chestnut colt by Gamis, out of Georgiana. Toleurs, a bay colt by Retreat, out of Totote, was second and Styx, a bay colt by Trysien, out of Symolth, third. The post odds were 16 to 1 against Gospodara, 4 to 1 against Toleurs and 5 to 1 against Styx.

There were twelve starters. Splinter was first away and made the run to the end and was beaten by Geuvane. His vic and Styx in the order named. When the race was over Styx was given his head and he was soon in the lead. He showed the way into the stretch, but Gospodara came up and took the lead, winning by two lengths ahead of Styx. Gospodara and his jockey were attacked by a mob when they were trotting to the paddock. They were protected from serious injury only by the police.

Loud Imprecations against the stables of Chantilly, the owner of the winner, were heard on the turf and in the paddock. Gospodara, although the favorite for the Grand Prix de Produits a fortnight ago, was beaten by Geuvane. His victory today therefore induced the belief that he had not been ridden fairly in the former race. Cunningham is an English trainer and owner, who has, for a long time, settled in France.

By Telegram to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—(Special Dispatch.) A San Jose dispatch says the California Associated Cycling clubs will hold their annual celebration and parade in this city on the 9th of June, and in order that there be no conflict between the Native Sons of the Golden West and the California Associated Cycling Clubs, the Garden City Cyclers and the San Jose Road-club were instructed at a meeting of the board of governors, held here last night, to appoint a committee to confer with the Native Sons of the Golden West Committee and arrange a parade. The Transportation Committee was instructed to confer with the Native Sons of the Golden West Committee in San Francisco with regard to special rates on the railroad.

A discussion of class A and class B races was then taken up and after a lengthy session it was resolved as the result of the meeting that the association give no more support to race meetings having Class A races on the program, and an amendment to the by-laws was offered whereby the association will have control of sanctions for race meetings. All fast riders, Zeigler, Davis, Edwards, Foster, Alexander, Well and others are in Class B.

The Oakland Cycling Corps, a new club, was elected to membership in the association. A clause was adopted to the by-laws whereby no person is permitted to enter a race held under the auspices of the association unless he has been a member of an association club for sixty days prior to the date of the meeting. The records committee reported in regard to the twenty-five-mile road race of February 22, and the 100-mile race of April 8. It was shown that the two races had been run with little loss of time, and the association. The governors will meet at San Francisco in August.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The World this morning prints interviews with several prominent Irishmen on the subject of Tynan's book.

Patrick Ford, editor of the Irish World, for many years prominent in Irish national affairs, says Tynan's book is nothing more than an effort to discredit the Irish leaders in the interest of the Tory party. He says Tynan never knew Parnell. "I knew Tynan when he came to this country after the Phoenix Park murders," he said. "I considered him a good, honest man, but somewhat of a crank on the question of physical force. He wanted me to enter that question. It seems to me his book is extremely well-timed for some purposes. The government forces in Parliament are in a shaky condition. The present party started in with only a small majority in Parliament, has had that majority greatly reduced and the Tories are trying to get control. It seems to me that there is some sort of understanding between the author of this book and the party interested in overthrowing the present government."

Tynan, the "No. 1" of Irish invincibles, was seen at his home, No. 19, King's Bridge Road, last evening.

"The fight is on now, and the wolves who have been snarling at my heels for years will begin to snarl afresh," he said. "I care nothing for them. My shoulders are broad enough to stand whatever may be put on them in the way of abuse. There will be denials and abuse almost without end. The British newspapers have already begun their attacks. I saw But I tell you, and here Tynan raised his hand to heaven and spoke slowly and deliberately, "that every word in my book is true and in every event described, with scarcely an exception, I

DELANO, June 3.—The train that was captured by the Industrials last night near Pixley did not arrive here until this morning. The Industrials would not leave the cars until forced to do so by Sheriff Kay and his posse of thirty-five deputies, who arrived on a special train from Visalia. When the men were all out an attempt was made to move the cars, but the Industrials cut the airbrakes, and not until they were driven off two or three times could the train proceed. The Industrials were very obdurate and insulting, and only the coolness of the officers prevented trouble.

The first detachment, numbering ninety men arrived this morning, and after being fed, started southward. "Gen." Barker and 218 more Industrials arrived this morning, and were sent to Kansas town. It is rumored that they will attempt to capture the south-bound train. No serious trouble is expected.

ON THE BACKWARD ROUTE.

ELLIS (Kan.), June 3.—The eastward progress of a band of Commonwealers came to an unexpected end this afternoon, and instead of being sent on to Kansas City they were hustled back to Denver under a guard of deputy United States marshals.

On Saturday morning about seventy-five "wealers" and one "cant," came in from Denver over the Union Pacific road. Superintendent Brinkhous, after communicating with Atty.-Gen. William C. Taft, decided that the men must not be let out of the city. The men, and issued orders that all freight trains should be abandoned rather than carry them.

United States Marshal Neely, who had been notified, arrived at Ellis this morning on a special. A train was made up this evening and the Commonwealers were ordered to board it. The train, which was to be the first of a series, was to be sent to Kansas City.

THE PRIMARIES.

The result of Saturday's primaries was the talk of the town among the Republican politicians yesterday. Under the head of "The Field of Politics" we print some of the current gossip, together with some remarks of a slightly pointed nature on the outcome. In the Fourth Ward, the champion of Judge McKinley, known full well that he is not "out of the woods" by a long shot, have commenced to shout to keep their courage up, and are brazenly claiming everything in sight. They will get unmercifully. Meanwhile it may be well for citizens who want the truth about the judicial and Congressional contests to beware of the false reports and too-confident claims that will be set afoot regarding the result, as it affects Messrs. Clark and Hazard on the one hand, and Messrs. McKinley and McLachlan on the other hand. The country is yet to be heard from, and as the contest now stands, "it is no man's fight."

HAWAII AND NECKAR ISLAND.

Whatever option one may hold upon the merits of the Hawaiian question in its relation to the United States, it is impossible not to admire the tact, diplomacy and courage which have characterized Mr. Dole's government, since the time when it was brought forth in the throes of revolution. Mr. Dole and some of his advisers have evinced a mastery of statecraft, such a larger nation than Hawaii. When Grover Cleveland locked horns with the provisional government he was outwitted, outmaneuvered, and beaten at every point. The boldness, the ability, and withal the dignity with which the provisional government maintained its cause, even when threatened with the hostility of this great and powerful government, challenged the admiration of all men who admire courage. Public sympathy was naturally with the weaker party to the controversy, and the American people, without much regard to party, rather enjoyed the discomfiture of the obese would-be autocrat of the White House, in his opera-bouffe attempt to reseat the dusky Kanaka "Queen" upon the vanishing remnant of her precarious throne.

Mr. Dole's government has just given another evidence that it still lives, moves and has its being. As announced in yesterday's dispatches, the discovery has been made of a design on the part of the English government to take possession of Necker Island, a small island north of Hawaii, of no little value, it seems, that no nation has heretofore considered it worth seizing. The alleged intention of England is to use the island as a station for the proposed submarine cable between Australia and the United States. In this connection, it is apparent. If it be used as a landing-place for the proposed cable, Honolulu is likely to be left out in the cold, and thus to be deprived of cable privileges for many years to come—perhaps forever.

Just why the English government should be desirous of cutting around so important a city as Honolulu, in this enterprise, is not apparent. At all events, Mr. Dole and his advisers do not propose to be thus slighted if they can prevent it, and have sent their fastest steamer to take possession of the island in the name of the Hawaiian republic. A British steamer is said also to have been dispatched in haste on a similar mission, in behalf of England. It remains to be seen which vessel will first succeed in planting the emblem of its government upon the volcanic shores of Necker Island.

It is not likely that there will be bloodshed over this affair, though such a result may follow. It is not at all certain, moreover, that even should the English flag be first planted on the island, that mass of volcanic rock will become an English possession. The race is not at all ways to the swift nor, the victory to the strong. The United States government, while perhaps not deeming it advisable to annex the Hawaiian Islands, cannot view with indifference any attempt on the part of England or any other great power, to gain a foothold in the mid-Pacific. England already has her fortresses planted from Labrador to the Barbadoes. She is also entrenched in the North Pacific, and it would be folly on the part of the government to permit her to plant her en-

Department as a permanent design for the two-cent postage stamp. Mr. Lampton's idea is purely patriotic in its origin, and has at least the merit of attractiveness. He wants the Star Spangled Banner to find its way into every region, no matter how remote, and believes that the stamp would be strongly patriotic in its influences. "To some persons," says he, "this expedient may seem rather unnecessary, but it is a fact that in many parts of the country the flag is never seen, and there are many people who would not know it if they saw it." That condition should not longer be permitted to exist. The Lampton idea is worthy of consideration by the Postmaster-General. The flag is unquestionably an aesthetic success, so no objection could be made by those who are ever fearful that some of the canons of art will be fractured.

In a recent speech Senator Gorman of Maryland admitted that the Senate tariff bill was a complete departure from the Chicago platform and a renunciation of Democratic principles; but he declared that if the Wilson bill were passed as it came from the House "the Democratic party would be ruined." Mr. Gorman exhibits a great deal of unnecessary concern for a dead horse. The Democratic party is "ruined" already, so far as its prospects of political victories for some years to come are concerned.

It is estimated that there are now over 3,000,000 artisans in the United States who are out of work as a direct result of the tariff-tinkering operations of the Democracy. This estimate is no doubt below rather than above the truth. At no previous time within the history of this nation have so many workmen been out of employment as now. This is the price—or a part of the price—which American labor is paying for Democratic agency. Is the same worth the candle?

Col. Dan'l M. Burns, is quoted by the Examiner as saying that Christopher Buckley, the "blind devil" of Democratic policy, has experienced a change of faith and will hereafter vote his "lambs" for the Republican party. A squeezed orange or a forty-acre tract bound up with Russian thistle would have about as much cause for rejoicing as the Republican party would have under the suction-pump of this political leech.

Gatling guns accompany the militia of Indiana in their expedition against the striking miners in the Cannelburg region. Isn't it about time that the Gatling guns in some other States were brushed up and put into working order? Your Gatling gun is a great peacemaker, when it gets right down to business.

The Democratic party has not in its ranks a man who is capable of defeating William McKinley in the Presidential campaign of 1896. Neither can the Democratic party bring forward an issue in that campaign which will defeat the Republican issue of protection to American industries.

Senator Hill declares that neither the Wilson bill nor the Senate tariff bill meets his approval. This is sad. But then nobody supposed that either Senators or Representatives were sitting up nights to devise ways and means to please David B. Hill.

There may be some room for speculation as to what man will receive the next Democratic nomination for President. But one thing is a certainty beyond all speculation: Grover Cleveland will not receive it.

If Gov. Waite could only be suppressed, along with the disorder for which he is posing as an apologist, there would be some hope for the future of Colorado.

The Third Ward 400 were out at the primaries Saturday, with an extra one "thrown in."

LOS ANGELES THEATRE.—The Trocadero Vaudeville Company, with Eugene Sandow as the central figure, opened their engagement at the Los Angeles Theatre last evening. The house was well filled, considering the fact that Sunday performances usually draw a light crowd in this city, and the excellent programme presented was thoroughly enjoyed.

Elsie Adair, in her serpentine dance, drew forth cheers from the gallery, as well as hearty applause from the main floor. In response to an encore she advanced to the front of the stage and went through a series of intricate evolutions, while a stereopticon was brought into play to throw upon her fast-revolving drapery pictures in bright colors in quick succession. First the dancer was transformed into a butterfly, and again into a mass of color without form or figure. Finally the picture of Grover Cleveland appeared on the maze of skirts, and with one flash the audience burst into a storm of hisses. In a moment the features of ex-President Harrison were discerned, and the transition was at once rapid and marvellous. The picture was a masterpiece of the art, and the audience recognized the likeness, and more than one person was heard to say that it certainly must be a Republican house.

The "The Vanishing City" was a very good picture, and the artist who furnished her part. The curtain finally went up again and disclosed Sandow, standing on a pedestal. The strong man was dressed in tight and exhibited his great body around as the colored light flashed upon him and exhibited his phenomenal muscular development. He next came forward and took up two dumbbells, weighing fifty-six pounds each, and turned over in the air backward with the bells in his hands. Then, with his feet held and eyes blindfold, he did the same trick again. His next act was to lift the 300-pound dumb-bell over his head and lower it to the floor. Then he performed several feats on the Roman column, and, after these were over, prepared for the final and most difficult act of the evening, that of holding up three horses. He first laid across his knees and shoulders a padded board after raising himself, with arms extended backward from the floor. Upon this stand a long platform was laid and the ponies were brought out. The animals probably weighed in the aggregate about 2400 pounds, and they ran up on the platform with ease. The strong man held the whole weight steadily, without moving, for nearly a minute, when the ponies were driven off and the performance was ended.

The Sandow company will hold the board, again tonight, and the artist, undoubtedly, draw another large audience.

Lawrence Hanley will put "Saratoga" on the stage at the Grand Opera-house tonight. The artist, undoubtedly, draw another large audience.

son—something which, it is said, will at once surprise and delight those who have heretofore shown a liking for their efforts. Meantime, however, "The Idea," which is well up to the mark, has certainly not undoubtedly equal its own former reputation as a fun-maker and money-winner. The company producing it is practically a new one, aside from the leading men.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Shall the "Roasters" Be "Roasted?"
LOS ANGELES, June 1, 1894.—(To the Editor of The Times.) The grand jury, in their report as published in The Times of today, use the following severe language concerning the Board of Education of the city:

"They have betrayed the most important trust the people could give them, struck a blow at our schools, robbed our children and disgraced themselves."

I am a patron of the public schools of this city, and for some years, and in common with thousands of other citizens am interested in knowing whether such statements are facts. If they are facts, the grand jury have certainly given proof of them. The evidence that would satisfy this jury and warrant the utterance of such language would certainly be sufficient to convince any trial jury of the guilt of the accused. Hence I am led to ask why such proceedings are not instituted as will secure the proper punishment of the guilty. The grand jury charged are indictable, and the proofs must be clear, or the grand jury would not be warranted in using such language concerning public officers. Does the grand jury expect to reform the members of the Board of Education by reading them an occasional public lecture? It has been suggested that this is a very effective method, rather simple and expensive, and if investigations of this character are carried on much longer a committee will be needed to investigate the "investigative" SHERMAN PACE.

The Sword of Justice and the Reign of Law.
LOS ANGELES, June 1.—(To the Editor of The Times.) In commenting upon the action of the miners' committee in refusing to let the Catholic church in Los Angeles, you ask, "Where is the law in law?"

Permit me to ask, where is the law in law? Precisely the same result would be brought under the same conditions in Los Angeles, or anywhere else.

This country needs a government. The militia may be ordered out, but that does not settle the law. How else can anything yet. There must be blood-letting, and the gatling gun must be worked before this thing ends.

There is no better example than that grand old Sherman with 20,000 men in Colorado today would show us. He would not speculate on the effect his act in the letter of the Catholic church in Los Angeles, as he did at Atlanta, "to suppress insurrection and put down rebellion" property must be destroyed and lives sacrificed.

There would be a loud noise, amateur surgeons would get some practice, and the trouble would soon end. Yours truly,
P. E. JOHNSON.

CONCURRENDS.

POMONA, June 2.—(To the Editor of The Times.) Was the McKinley tariff actually a "robber tax"? If it was who did it rob? Did it rob Republicans and Democrats alike? How else can it be? Did the Republicans know when they passed the law that it would injure Republicans as much as Democrats? Was the whole of it a robbery tax or was it a protection tax? During the campaign did the Democrats claim that it was a robber tax only on the articles made free by the Wilson bill? Why then, being the standard of the death of calamity? Do the Democrats know that the Wilson bill will hurt one party as much as the other? What is a tariff for revenue or for protection? How can there be a tariff for revenue only without it protecting somebody? "A reduced tariff will stimulate and increase imports." "It would give our laboring people more, or less work? If a protective tariff is in 'favor of the few and against the many' does it better it to increase the free list?"

O. P. BRENNESCHOLTZ.

THE ARTISTS' INNINGS.

When the great Columbian Fair was being constructed and the white palaces were rising along the shores of Lake Michigan, it was very obvious that the architects of America were enjoying and also making the best of an opportunity such as seldom comes in the history of the world. The work was crowned with incomparable beauty, and has left a whole new era in American civilization. Meanwhile the painters and sculptors collaborated with them, as decorators of the vast and graceful buildings, and won the prize. The painters sought and found a new world in the triumph. For months after their presence was welcomed at Jackson Park, while Harry Fenn crowded his sketch books and easels with the pictures of the triumph. The artist's innings has been a success. The artists' innings has been a success. The artists' innings has been a success.

From their thousands of masterly sketches and paintings of the fair, hundreds of the best have been chosen to illustrate and illuminate the magnificent "Book of the Builders," which is the authentic history of the World's Columbian Exposition. The book is a glowing canvas, and from the painters and sculptors collaborated with them, as decorators of the vast and graceful buildings, and won the prize. The painters sought and found a new world in the triumph. For months after their presence was welcomed at Jackson Park, while Harry Fenn crowded his sketch books and easels with the pictures of the triumph. The artist's innings has been a success. Next Sunday the usual time of the morning service will be given up to the Sunday-school. The annual children's-day exercises will be held, commencing at 10:30 o'clock. All are invited.

PEOPLE'S CHURCH.

Rev. J. H. Phillips preached an interesting sermon on "Human Ideals," at the People's Church, Blanchard-Fitzgerald hall, yesterday morning. His text was, "And I, if I lift up my voice from the earth, will draw all men unto Me." St. John xii. 32.

He said there are but two classes of people in the world that have not ideas, he said in class. The man who has not an idea is so low down in the scale of being, so depraved that he does not care. The other is the man who stands at the top of the scale of being, the man of human desire.

It is an essential thing that we have ideas. In proportion as the artist comes up to his idea is his picture a success. To approach his highest ideal in his mission, as the sculptor, as he transforms the unheaven stone by the wayside and works out his ideal in painstaking, careful effort. If we neglect to attend our primaries and elect our ideal men we must not complain when we are beaten with our own neglect.

"And I, if I lift up my voice from the earth, will draw all men unto Me." The speaker declared that he did not think that Jesus meant that men should be on the cross.

Rev. J. S. Thomson, the pastor, delivered a sermon at Unity Church yesterday on "Unity and Trinity," from the words, "We know that there is none other God but one." Though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, as there be gods many and lords many, but to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in Him," Corinthians viii. 4-6.

The doctrine of the unity of God is very prominent in the Bible. It is so clear and strong and frequent that no reader could fail to see it. The doctrine is scriptural and Christian. It is more, it is the first commandment of all, as Christ proclaimed we are all commanded to be unitarian so far as a belief in one God is concerned. The doctrine of the Trinity as it is not mentioned in the scriptures. It is an inheritance from Greek philosophy, colored with Hindu notions. It is a man-made mystery. NEW YORK, June 3.—I think it was Admiral Rous who said that "upon the turf and under the turf, all people are equal." Besides giving utterance to this philosophical witticism, the admiral is the father of the rules of thoroughbred racing, which, in an amended form, gov-

The ho

One of the mysteries of the race track is where and how the crowd, day after day, gets its money to bet with. The "bookies," as they are called, are not prominently rich or poor, but they are not poor losers than winners. Women are inveterate betters, and many, in most instances middle-aged women, follow the races for a living. The track rules do not permit women to enter the betting ring, so the Western Union Telegram Company furnishes messenger boys to place the money and collect the winning bets. These boys see a lot and grow to men in experiences and sensations long makers.

The mob of two or three thousand people that gathered at the starting post turned and races across the in-field in a mad attempt to see something of the finish as we did. This "racing" mass of people, on the dead run, always reminds me of a defeated army in a great battle, where the ill-

When you reach New York again you are greeted by an army of newsboys, yelling like so many Indians, the sporting editions of the evening papers, and behind them another army of cabbies shouting "Keb, sir? Keb, sir?" "Hansom? hansom?" You can tell the losers and the winners right then. Those who say "Yes" to "Keb, sir?" and those who are satisfied made Kelly the base-prolonging fiend that he was, but his rare good judgment and his ability to read the minds of his opponents should never lose their heads and he should tempt into stealing impossible bases. In fact, the speed play is the trademark of a man who has had experience enough to acquire to study to temptation when the pitcher seems to be slow and the play is possible. Kelly is a man who knows that the thing is to study the whole field, not merely the two bases between which you run. Kelly is a man who knows that he is making his professional debut this year who is likely to make a record second to none. I refer to Moose Murphy. He is a man who is a little bit of a fellow, but those who want to make a study of base-running could not do better than observe him. He is a man who is a good example of a repeated query: "Is a powerful physical essential to success in base-running? Murphy is a man who is a good example of the smallest man playing professional ball in either the national or any of the state leagues. He is a man who is 5 feet 3 inches high, and he weighs, in playing condition, 125 pounds. Yet, Murphy seems brown son of Spendthrift is endowed with all the qualities of his sire, and is as good as them to quite as much a degree as any of the other three. I will never forget how he broke from a seemingly hopeless and inextricable tangle of horses away into the rear in last year's handicap and came flashing like a meteor down the track. I had just finished a hard fight with Noble on Illume, and Doggett on Leonawell, for

A LONG JOURNEY.—(The San Francisco Chronicle).—Two young fellows left New York five days ago to wheel around the world. They were H. H. Hill and Eugene Pettit. The former is a native of Geneva and his friend, Eugene Pettit, is from Chicago. Both are well known and Pettit has won considerable fame as a long-distance wheelman. Hill rides a bicycle. It is the intention of the riders to make a tour of the world, and to occupy about two years on the journey. "The route will be, after leaving New York, London, Bombay, Hong Kong, Singapore, Ceylon, Calcutta, Madras, Rangoon, Cincinatti, Chicago and thence to the coast. A steamer will be taken to San Francisco, and from there to Australia, China, India, Persia, Asia Minor, Russia, Germany, France, Spain, England, Scotland and Ireland."

Miss Kitty C. Wilkins, the horse queen of Idaho, has at present about three thousand dollars worth of horses in her stable. She has Clydes, French draughts and others. She has a few of the famous "blue" horses, and draught and purebred, and rejects the bronchos with scorn. Her father and brother are also breeders of horses, and she has the range, and Miss Wilkins looks after the selling and buying. She is about 36 years old.

The Riverside dairymen have already contracted to take the pulp, and it is expected that a large quantity will be disposed of to Los Angeles dairies. ## SAN BERNARDINO.

A New and Promising Placer District Discovered.

Result of the Republican Primaries—The Bicycle Race Between Los Angeles and Redlands Won by E. C. Morrow.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 3.—(Special Correspondence.) Out upon the desert, about midway between Daguerre and the old Ord mine a new and promising placer district has been discovered. The territory of gold-bearing sands is situated in the mountains, about six miles from the city, and is bounded by the mountains on the north and west, and by the Colorado river on the south and east. The district is situated in the mountains, about six miles from the city, and is bounded by the mountains on the north and west, and by the Colorado river on the south and east.

The daymen of Riverside and San Bernardino counties met in this city a few days ago and took steps to protect the district. The district is situated in the mountains, about six miles from the city, and is bounded by the mountains on the north and west, and by the Colorado river on the south and east. ## Rousing Republican Meeting at the Recorder's Courtroom.

A Club Will be Organized This Week—Happenings of a Quiet Sunday—Personal and Social Notes—Brevities.

PASADENA, June 3.—(Special Correspondence.) After the Republicans of Pasadena got through with the primaries Saturday evening, they adjourned to the City Recorder's courtroom for the purpose of organizing a Republican club for active service in the campaign. It was one of the largest, most representative and enthusiastic political meetings ever held here, which augurs well for the success of the party at election time.

The meeting was called to order by M. M. Wright. Temporary organization was effected by making Herbert C. Brown chairman and C. W. Bell secretary. After the object of the meeting had been stated the many present had the pleasure of listening to a brief, witty and eloquent address by Hon. Leo Fairchild, vice-president of the Republican State League of Washington, and who took an active part in the last campaign in that state. Mr. Fairchild's remarks were replete with telling points, illustrated by humorous anecdotes which elicited frequent and hearty applause. Reference was made to the fallacious arguments advanced by the Populists and how they should be refuted. The speaker was particularly well posted on this subject, for in Washington he managed the campaign in some of the strongest Populist districts.

State, meeting their ablest orators continually in point to point. Fairchild afterwards urged that the Republicans in the coming campaign see to it that their speakers as return from the fair by the party thoroughly post themselves in its platform and principles, so that they may argue intelligently with people of other political beliefs.

Brief and forcible addresses followed by Judge H. W. Magwood, J. C. Wright, Arthur H. H. Rose, W. S. Wright and B. W. Hahn, all of whom pressed a glorious Republican victory. The fall was decided to defer the permanent organization of the club until next Saturday evening, when another meeting will be held at the same place. On motion, the chair appointed a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws of the club. The committee consisted of the following: First, J. C. Wright; Second, J. C. Wright; Third, J. C. Wright; Fourth, J. C. Wright; Fifth, J. C. Wright; Sixth, J. C. Wright; Seventh, J. C. Wright; Eighth, J. C. Wright; Ninth, J. C. Wright; Tenth, J. C. Wright.

THIS WEEK'S CONVENTION. Tuesday evening the California Universalist convention will hold its opening session at the Universalist church. This important gathering will continue in session for three days, and will be attended by several hundred delegates. The convention will be held at the Universalist church, which is situated on the corner of Main and Broadway streets.

HOTEL GREEN IMPROVEMENTS. Among the important improvements contemplated at Hotel Green during the summer might be mentioned the erection of a new open fronted porch on the east side of the main office corridor, setting back the clerk's desk by cutting an arch in the wall, and enlarging the beautiful dining room hall by connecting it by two new wings with the main building. The new wings will be built on the site of the old wings, and will be a large and modern building.

PASADENA BREVITIES. Pasadenaites who have been to the Midwinter Fair are unanimous in the opinion that the local exhibit is one of the best ever seen in the town and vicinity. It is a noteworthy fact that several of the Eastern tourists who were in the city on Sunday last, called their attention to this section of country. Mart Wright deserves to be crowned with a laurel wreath.

There is an ever-increasing demand for a systematic system of street numbering. The City Engineer says that the passage of the right kind of an ordinance by the Council would seem to accomplish the desired result. The engineer is of the opinion that the system of street numbering is one of the most important of the city's improvements.

A lady residing on North Marengo avenue fell into the water yesterday afternoon at the corner of Raymond avenue and Colorado street, breaking her arm. She was removed to Kennedy's store, where Dr. Harry Macomber gave her necessary surgical attention.

Several complaints have been heard concerning the cruelty to animals practiced by one or two boys who are allowed to drive a street car on the corner of Main and Broadway streets. The city council has decided to take action on this matter.

THE LATE GRAND JURY.

Some Things Have Occurred That Will Stand Explanation.

Now that the late grand jury has completed its labors, winding up with a junketing trip to the State Reform School at Whittier, the taxpayers are beginning to cast about to see what substantial results have been obtained from the expenditure of several thousand dollars of the public funds. As to the actual number of indictments returned, they are comparatively few in number, the most important of which were against the alleged slot-machine robbers, who, it is true, had already been arrested and were in jail when this action was taken; but the grand jury was very liberal in the way of criticism of public officers, undoubtedly calling attention to many abuses which should be corrected, and also dispensing "tough" words to the hands of a pleasing occupation, doubtless, but which comes high when the per diem and expenses of the grand jury are considered.

As stated above, the grand jury freely indulged in criticism, and if reports are correct, some of it was to say the least based on very superficial information. A case in point is that of the City Auditor. After giving that officer credit for the exercise of vigilance in heading off excessive and illegal demands, the grand jury states that he has a very imperfect conception of the duties of his office, and indulges in some strictures on the system of book-keeping.

Mr. Tule states positively that no member of the grand jury, or any expert of that body, ever did him the honor to expert his books, or even ask to see them. In other words, that no effort was made to ascertain the condition of the books of his office, or to find out whether they were balanced, as required. Not only this, in going over the City Tax and License Collector's account, they did not even examine his books to see whether the license as charged on his books corresponded with those in his office.

In fact, the only attention he received from the hands of the grand jury previous to the filing of their report was the criticism of him, was after he had sent a communication to the City Council asking for an additional deputy, when Albot Kinney, one of the members, called on him to ask the appointment of one of their experts, named Miller, in case the extra money was allowed. About this time Foreman Charles E. Day called on Councilman Campbell, of the Ninth Ward, in the same interest.

The gentlemen were given no encouragement, and there the matter dropped, nothing more being thought of until the grand jury's report appeared, although it was common gossip around the City Hall that the Auditor would receive a scolding, which he did.

Another case of a different sort is that of young Platt, secretary of the Board of Education, who charges Albot Kinney with attempting to intimidate and frighten him into making admissions, and that when he finally did appear before the grand jury, not a single question was asked him about matters that Kinney had previously interrogated him upon. The extra money that a large amount of information concerning the school board was laid before the grand jury which failed to materialize in the published reports, but this may come out later.

The excursion of the grand jury to Whittier as soon as they were discharged has also come in for considerable adverse criticism on the part of citizens, as being at least in questionable taste.

The Deaf-mutes.

The Los Angeles Deaf-mute Society met Saturday night at the Y.M.C.A. rooms.

Henry Krackie, the president, reported the following new members: Thomas R. Lane, William Kingsbury, William Ward, William Taylor, Mrs. Annie Ward, Mrs. Sarah Kingsbury, and Miss C. Gassage.

It was decided to hold meetings on the first Saturday in each month at the Y.M.C.A. rooms.

The official reports showed that the society was in a healthy condition.

Miss Susan Stuart Frackleton of Milwaukee, who has attained distinction as a potter, is said to have contributed the one really unique piece of ceramic art to the World's Fair. She has received various medals and diplomas for superior work. The Queen of Italy has written her a personal letter complimenting her and her work on china.

CITY COUNCIL.

Business That Will Come Up at Today's Session.

The Street Railway Franchise Likely to Be Further Considered—The Street Superintendent's Office Investigation.

The matter of street-railway franchises which occupied a large share of each of the sessions of the City Council for several weeks past is again to come before the body at today's meeting. It will be remembered that last week what is known as the franchise asked for by the Main-street and Agricultural Park Railway Company was further amended and the clerk was instructed to advertise it for bids. What is known as the Street franchise, which virtually is for three or four separate routes connecting various points on the route for which the franchise was ordered advertised, with points on the westerly city boundary, was considered adoption of an ordinance which shall give the Health Officer greater power for the enforcement of sanitary regulations. Although the matter is an important one action on it will probably not be long delayed if the communication be referred to the Board of Health. That board will probably meet this week and it is understood that an ordinance such as is recommended in the communication, is being drafted by officials of the Health Department.

A recommendation of the Health Officer that a sewer be constructed on West street, between Downey avenue and Mozart street, was last week referred to the Sewer Committee, and a report recommending some action will probably be made by that committee today.

A bid for the telephone franchise as advertised, it will be remembered, was received last week, but instead of being accompanied by a certified check, as the advertisement required, the proposal offered 1 1/2 per cent. of the gross receipts per annum. There was objection raised to the consideration of such a bid, and it was referred to the Finance Committee, which body may report on it today.

The hearing on the protest against the closing of Jackson street into Los Angeles street, was last Monday continued till today. Some dispute arose regarding the frontage, and the City Engineer was in the position to prepare a map, showing the property proposed to be taken, and that to be assessed.

The Board of Public Works did not meet to prepare the usual weekly report last week, but will probably do so on Monday, and will probably present the petitions regarding street improvements presented to the Council last week.

The ordinance for the appointment of commissioners for the widening of West Beacon and Fireman streets, have been laid over till the present time.

The Finance Committee has not yet presented a report in regard to the conduct of the Street Superintendent's office, some of the peculiar methods of which were investigated by that committee several weeks ago. Although the results of the investigation were quite fully published in the papers at the time it was held, it is thought the committee ought to report the matter to the Council in some shape so that it may be acted on and disposed of. There has been considerable talk, that although Mr. Watson, the Street Superintendent, has been guilty of grave fault in permitting men under his employ to contribute money, as the investigation showed they did do, yet it seems to have been proved conclusively that Mr. Watson did not receive anywhere near all the money contributed.

In justice to the Street Superintendent and to the others connected with the matter, it is considered the Finance Committee will not permit any unnecessary delay in submitting its report.

In regard to an ordinance fixing the rates for telephone service, as is authorized by the city charter, it was stated in the Council last week that the committee having the matter in charge is corresponding with other cities for the purpose of ascertaining what rates are being charged, and that the committee will probably be able to present to the Council an intelligent recommendation in the near future.
